JEWELLERY ART

ONE-OF-A-KIND HEALING JEWELLERY

Hand-selected crystals • Individually handmade • Created with intention

14 years of jewellery, intuition & connection

Jewellery with intention. Pieces with a story.

Budhi'n'Chooch is more than a jewellery brand - it's a celebration of intention, healing & energy. Founded by intuitive healer and designer Danica Smith, with 14 years of experience, Budhi'n'Chooch has been a labour of love, a true calling and a path of service to her clients.

Every piece of jewellery is a unique, one-off creation, individually handmade with love, care & intention. Nothing is mass-produced or machine-made, meaning no two pieces are ever exactly the same. Travelling across the globe, Danica personally hand-selects every crystal & stone for its individual beauty and energy.

From raw crystals to precious and semi-precious gemstones, every piece tells its own story - from its journey from the earth to becoming a unique piece of wearable art, blessed with intentions of love, happiness, health and protection.

THE PIECE THAT CALLS TO YOU

An extension of Danica's deeply intuitive practice and connection to crystals and energy, every crystal is carefully attuned, with the belief that the right piece will call to the person it is meant for.
