Introducing Neo Naturally Australian, where the art of herbal teas meets organic excellence. Founded by Mona Webb, a former engineer turned advocate for holistic wellbeing. Neo was born from a simple cup of Brahmi Memory Tea. While studying engineering, Mona Webb discovered the power of Ayurvedic teas - sipping Brahmi for clarity and Complexion Tea for radiance. Years later, inspired by her personal journey toward natural living, she traded the petrochemicals industry for plants and created Neo - a handcrafted range of remedial teas made in our Sydney Lower North Shore Blendorium.

With a focus on sustainability and premium quality, Neo sources herbs and teas Australia wide, blending and packing them in exquisite apothecary jars that reflect their healing properties. Certified organic by ACO, Neo's commitment to ethical practices extends to being a Certified B Corporation. We invite you to elevate your tea experience and nurture your body and soul with teas that help you feel better and stay hydrated every single day.

Proudly B Corp Certified

I'm thrilled to announce that Neo has been awarded B Corp Certification after a rigorous, independent assessment, recognising our strong commitment to sustainability and social values. Neo is one of the few Australian tea producers to reach this esteemed standard. As a B Corp, we "meet the highest standards of social and environmental impact" and we are proud to join a global community of businesses that prioritise people and the planet over profit.

A Force For Good

Sip Neo and make a difference - help others too!
Did you know that Neo proudly gives back?

For 20 years we have supported the charity Food For Life through annual donations. A portion of our profits goes directly to this meaningful cause, helping us give back to the community with every cup.

Thank you for sipping with purpose. ❤️
