10 MISTAKES TO AVOID BEFORE RENOVATING

1. Choosing the Cheapest Quote

The lowest quote can often lead to poor workmanship, shortcuts, or unexpected costs later.

2. Renovating Without a Clear Budget

Not planning your budget properly can quickly cause renovation costs to blow out.

3. Ignoring Functionality

A space should not only look beautiful — it also needs to work for everyday living.

4. Poor Planning Before Starting

Changing layouts, finishes, or selections during construction creates delays and extra costs.

5. Following Too Many Trends

Overly trendy designs can date quickly and reduce long-term appeal and value.

6. Forgetting Storage Solutions

Smart storage is essential in kitchens, bathrooms, and laundries for practical living.

7. Choosing the Wrong Materials

Some materials may look good initially but won't handle moisture, heat, or daily wear.

8. Hiring Inexperienced Trades

Quality workmanship and licensed professionals make a huge difference to the final result.

9. Not Making a Realistic Timeline

Renovations that occur too quickly may result in cutting corners in quality.

10. Not Using a Custom Design Approach

Every home is different — tailored designs create better flow, functionality, and value.
